

hrreporter.com

2/27/2008

Top CHRPs recognized

National HR council honours those who scored highest on exam

The marks have been tabulated and the highest scorers on last fall's National Professional Practice Assessment (NPPA) have been announced for each province.

The NPPA, the final step in attaining the Certified Human Resources Professional (CHRP) designation, was administered last October. As part of its annual tradition, the Canadian Council of Human Resources Associations (CCHRA) will honour the HR practitioners who achieved top marks on the exams in each province with the Hewitt Associates' Award for Human Resources Excellence.

“We are pleased to congratulate these top achievers, who join more than 18,000 CHRPs, having achieved the national symbol of excellence in human resources management,” said Merrill Brinton, president of CCHRA.

The top scorers nationwide are:

Alberta

Mark Coates

British Columbia

Jolie Wist

Peggy Zock

Human Resources Manager, Restoration Services

Manitoba

Jill Watt

Manager, People Development, Cando Contracting Ltd.

Ontario

Christina S. Lee

Quebec

Véronique Emond

New Brunswick

Philip Roach

Director, Corporate Human Resources, Irving Group, Moncton

Newfoundland & Labrador

Tracey J. Birmingham

Human Resources Advisor, Rogers Cable

Nova Scotia & PEI
Wendy R. MacIntyre

Saskatchewan
Jackie Swinnerton
Public Service Commission